News Around Town

By Mrs. Calvin Robinson

I liked this one:

One of the sailors at Minnesota's World-Chamberlain naval air station owns what his friends claim is the world's champion gas-eating automobile.

He pulled into a gas station the other day to get a tankfull and he left the motor running. After several minutes of tank-filling, the attendant said wearily, "Will you shut off the motor, please? You're getting ahead of me." —Minneapolis Tribune.

We were having lunch at a local rendezvous one day this week, when teachers of the Appomattox elementary school came in as a group for a school - closing luncheon. And in a few moments in came Coach Gorden Bragg with senior members of his fine school teams. The boys really squared off for a big meal. And, right along came Coach Mrs. Louise Brown and senior girls on her excellent teams. It was a final meal together for some fine folks. Happy vacation, teachers and students!

Next Tuesday, June 14, is Flag Day. So this is a reminder in case you want to display the flag. We were proud to see all the flags flying around town Memorial Day weekend. Even if most everyone missed knowing that a special Act of Congress called for the flag to be flown at half mast on Memorial Day until twelve noon. The important thing is to "keep the flag flying."

For some mysterious reason, things have been on the dull side around town this week. Maybe it was because at long last we caught up with our own work and had a breathing spell. But upon inquiry, we found it was the same all over. I think a lot of this, though, is to be expected because more and more we are forced to learn how to organize and work and keep ahead of the game. If you ever get behind in your work, you are sunk. The thing to do is to keep your head above water.

We like to get up early these fine summer mornings. The other morning we arrived at our office well before seven A. M. And — the town street force was out cleaning off the town streets while they could get at them — before the parking of cars interfered. And all over we noted that folks are getting up early for a quick start. But the classic, perhaps, is the case of the local place where they got to work one morning this week at twenty minutes to two —A. M., that is— in order to have breakfast ready for the pipeline workers.

I found that was necessary, because many of these workers have to have packed lunches to take with them, and if you wait until they come in for breakfast at four A. M. you are already behind and never catch up. So, maybe I should not be proud of getting up at six and to work at seven. It is summer, and the sun rises early — and don't be a sleepy head. Get up early, and get a good start, and you'll feel beeter.

We stayed in a hotel recently, and there was a notice in our room that they served two breakfasts. One was the "early bird" breakfast, 7 to 8 A. M. The other was the "sleepy head" breakfast, 10 to 11 A. M. Actually we were up and had showered, and read the morning paper, and walked around the grounds, watching the clock, waiting for the "early bird" breakfast doors to open. Hours of arising and retiring are largely a matter of habit, and it takes a spell of effort to change a habit.

Thought in connection with commencement and school ending — we read so much about juvenile delinquents, but on commencement night, we are dead sure that the future generation is all right. And my observation is that the world is getting better and that these young people will solve a lot of problems we have been kicking around.

THE U. S. A. FLAG

By C. Walker Smith

(Editor's note: June 14 is Flag Day. We are requested by a member of the local American Legion to print the following, from the Virginia Legionnaire:)

In the distance I can see
The Flag of of the land of Liberty:
She waves, our Flag we love, our pride,
Our Flag we honor, guard with pride!
Oh, let us ever turn our eyes
To where she flies upon the skies
And mind the awful suffering
Of heroes who despised living
Under the heel of tyranny;
Who were disabled to make us free
Who served, fought, died to make us free,
In air, on lands, also sea;
That all the years our eyes could see
And own the blessings of Liberty!
Aloft she flies Red, White, Stars, Blue!
The falg of Unity's might true!
It stirs our hearts with pride to know
We fear no harm from any foe!

Our Father, may she always wave,
This Flag of people free, of brave
Who love, defend Ter, suffer, die
Who love, defend her, suffer, die
That this our land shall ever be
The land of our treasured Liberty!

O, where's a land so free as this?
O, where's a land so blest as this?
A land where all can own surely
The blessings of all Liberty!
On homeland, far lands, ships and seas
She hangs or flies proud in the breeze
Our Flag we look on so proudly,
Flag beautiful of my country!

The Flag of people fearing God!
The Flag of people loving God!
The Flag of people trusting God!
The Flag of people worshipping God!
The Flag of people praising God!
The Flag of people thanking God!
The Flag of our land favored by God!

VIRGINIA MUSIANS TO STUDY AT WILLIAMSBURG THIS SUMMER

Williamsburg, Va.- A record number of young musicians are expected this summer for the annual summer band school at the College of William and Mary in Virginia.

Director Charles Varner has estimated that "at least 150" high school musicians will be on hand for the 12-day band school when it opens on Monday, June 20.

"This will be more than double the number who attended the first session of the school in 1953," said the director. He added that a total of 70 were enrolled that year and the enrollment grew to 100 last year.

The summer band school is designed to suit the needs and interests of "not only junior and senior high school students but also of music teachers and directors in elementary, junior and senior high schools," according to Varner.

Open-air concerts, band rehearsals, and numerous recreational activities will be offered in addition to courses on the theory of music, harmony and music appreciation. A special performance at the official opening of "The Common Glory" on Wednesday, June 29, is also planned for the musicians.

Varner said that music directors and teachers may participate as "auditors, undergraduate students, or graduate students."

All participants in the summer band school will be housed in William and Mary dormitories and will be supervised by college officials. They will be permitted to use musik facilities of the College and of the City of Williamsburg.

A full program or recreational and sports activities is planned for the summer students. Tennis, swimming, softball, dances, receptions, parties, and tours of the Colonial Williamsburg area are provided at no cost to students.

The Appomattox Lions Club will meet tonight at 6:45.

SPORTS

Last Two Games

Appomattox semi-pro baseball team will meet Pamplin here Saturday night when they clash at 8:00 P. M. in a Patriot League game. The two teams met at Pamplin Sunday afternoon.

The last two games last year in which strong Henry's Mill defeated Appomattox played a very exciting Saturday night when Appomattox won between 20 to 4. Appomattox collected at least 15 errors. Besides hitting the ball well, Appomattox seemed able to catch the ball and the pitchers. On Sunday, Henry's Mill, Appomattox lost by a score of 5 to 3. Again, Henry's Mill won by only one run, but due to errors Appomattox lost. Maymond Wilson pitched a very good game for Appomattox and have won had he been given the local team will be playing in the league in hopes of winning the championship and then will be a lot of interest in baseball over this season.

Baseball fans continued loungingr in the shade of the Patrick Henry Hotel during the week losing two more games to Henry's Mill. Hundreds of fans saw Henry's Mill defeat Appomattox by a 24 to 5 victory over the locals here Saturday night. Henry's Mill won Sunday's game, 9 to 3.

Pamplin divided a pair of games with Republican Grove. Pamplin got the first game. I predict Saturday, this being the locals' straight win for James Mitchell. The Evergreen pitcher allowed only 3 hits. Republican Grove won Sunday's game, 6 to 0.

Appomattox took 3 to 2 and 5 to 2 victories over Altavista to move into third place in the league.

ST. LOUIS CARDINAL TRYOUT CAMP, LYNCHBURG

Veteran Cardinal Scout George Ferrell has been assigned to handle the workouts for the Red Bird tryout camp scheduled at Muncipal Stadium, Lynchburg, on Friday and Saturday, June 24 and 25, it was announced today.

Ferrell, Cardinal Scout in the Carolina area, hoped that a large group of young players in the 17 to 23 year age bracket would be on hand.

"This is a real opportunity for any boy who really likes to play baseball," he said.

"All we ask a player to do is bring his own glove, a pair of shoes, and, if he has one, a uniform. We'll have bats and balls and catching equipment.

"Besides that," he continued, "any boy reporting can be assured that he will get a one hundred per cent fair and impartial evaluation of his talents. Any player we see who has the potential to become, some day, through development, a major league player will be offered a contract to play and develop his talents in the Cardinal's minor league organization."

The latest accounting shows that it costs $366,200 a year to run the White Houes, exclusive of the cost of heat, guards and executive staff.

GORGEOUS GEORGE AT LYNCHBURG SATURDAY

Gorgeous George, he of the marcelled blonde locks and the — at times—dainty disposition, will tangle with Wild Red Berry in the feature match at the Lynchburg City Armory's wrestling show Saturday night.

Berry told a crowd at last week's matches that, if he was fortunate enough to be paired with the "gorgeous one," he would send George out of the ring with his hair looking like "a wet walrus' mustache."

George has been anything but a crowd pleaser in Lynchburg despite his gift of gold-plated "bobby pins" to the women fans, and it seems likely that Berry will have crowd support for his efforts this week, something that has been absent in the past.

The match is a best of three falls affair with a limit of 60 minutes.

George really doesn't rely on his wrestling income for his support. The big fellow has three turkey ranches that supply many of the larger hotels on the West Coast with birds for their menus. Berry, former mayor of Pittsburg, Kan., came through life the hard way. The son of a miner, he literally "dragged himself up by his bootstraps" until now he can hold his own in any conversation and give a top account of himself in the ring as a boxer and wrestler. Last week, he experienced little trouble in disposing of Billy Two Rivers, in straight falls.

Lou (Shoulders) Newman takes on Weitz Kameroff in a semi-final match, which will go for an hour if it does not reach a fall.
